Another unusual sight was a bobcat otherwise known as a lynx which crossed the road a short distance east of the local store. Several people have reported seeing the animal.

Local people were very sorry to hear that Rev. and Mrs. Swain were leaving for a pastorate in Edmonton. Rev. and Mrs. Hallman will be the new pastors here.

APHIDS MENACING FIELDS OF BARLEY

LETHBRIDGE — About two-thirds of Alberta's barley crop is in danger of being wiped out by aphids, Dr. C. W. Parstad, head of the field crop insects laboratory at the Dominion science service laboratories here says.

Swarms of the tiny green insects have been blown into Alberta in the last few days from Manitoba and Saskatchewan where the situation is also described as serious.

An estimated 3,600,000 acres of barley were seeded in Alberta this year—about 3,000,000 acres seeded after the late spring rains. This late-seeded barley is in the shot-hole stage and hundreds of the tiny sap-sucking insects have been found on a single plant.

The aphids can suck an entire field dry in a few days.

Added to the situation, supplies of malathion, a powerful insecticide used to kill aphids, are scarce in southern Alberta, agricultural chemical companies are making special efforts to have insecticide flown in from New York and Winnipeg.

Dr. Parstad said the aphid situation exists from the United States border to north of Edmonton.

Lions Jamboree Promises Fun For Young And Old

NEW SIDEWALKS BEING LAID

New cement sidewalks are beginning to show their face in some parts of the town and will vastly improve the appearance and convenience of travel in the areas in which they are being constructed.

It is estimated that approximately 5,000 feet of sidewalks will be laid by means of local improvement plan. The construction will cost 45c per square foot of which the town will pay 30 percent and the ratepayers 70 percent, over a 10-year period. On a 50-foot lot the ratepayer's share amounts to $7.00 per year.

GOLF NOTES...

On ladies day last week 8 turned out to try for low score on the toughest and easiest hole on the course which was of course, number 2.

Mrs. Helen McKenzie was successful in playing the hole in par. This Thursday tee-off time is 2:00 to 3:00. Competition to be named at that time.

Tea at 4:30.

Then there's the story about the avid golfers who had the idea last Sunday that it was just a passing shower. The clothes they wore are still drying out! After all, I only have two pairs of pants. Yes, we were there.

The Lions Club annual Jamboree, set for Wednesday, August 10 this year, will get off to a rousing start in the morning when the 26-piece Trochu band will display their musical ability at the head of a downtown parade. Details of this event will appear in our next issue.

Following the parade things will start stirring over at the ball park where teams from Didsbury, Westdale, Rosebud and Harnett will vie for the prize money.

For those interested there will be a mammoth display of farm machinery. The kiddies haven't been forgotten; there are surprises in store for them too.

The usual concessions and games of chance will be in evidence for anyone who care to use these facilities.

Along the same pattern as last year, a giant Bingo will be held in the arena in the evening. However, this time around, instead of $100 grand prize, there will be two $50 blackouts, as well as many other useful and valuable articles.

One thing we forgot to mention earlier and bigger than flowers and vegetable contest will be held in the arena. Mr. C. E. Reiber is the man to contact as regards to this.

Seems like it'll be a good day! See you there!

Hail Misses Didsbury District

POUNDED HAIL CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE IN SOUTH

Violent electrical, wind and hail storms swept over the Rocky Mountains and into Alberta during the weekend, battering crops the length and breadth of the province (luckily this district missed the brunt of the storm and hail damage was reported; drenching cities, breaking windows and interrupting communications generally).

While several houses in Edmonton and Hinton, and Okotoks district were hit by lightning, no casualties were reported.

More than a half-inch of rain was dumped on Calgary's North Hill, downtown district and East Calgary during a 10-minute downpour which cut visibility to a city block. The storm is described as one of the heaviest in the last four or five years.

A raging storm which hung over the United States and the Valley of the Colorado district Saturday evening saw an estimated two or three inches of rain fall.

Striking at numerous points from the Peace River district down into the United States, the rainfall varied from a small fraction of an inch at some points to regular cloudbursts in others. Whitecourt reported 2.44 inches Monday morning.

Edmonton reported nearly half an inch Sunday morning and similar amount Monday morning.

Mt. View W.I. Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of M.V.W.I. was held July 20 at the home of Mrs. David Pratt with 13 members and 8 visitors present.

Roll call was answered by a famous person with my name or initials. Correspondence was read which consisted of thank you letters from the Cancer Society, The Red Cross and the Midway school for pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Banff and Mrs. Snyder very nicely thanked the members for their trip to Edmonton and also for the gift and all kindness shown her while in the hospital.

Hostess sewing was handed out to 9 members.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual undertaking of God as divine Love assures man of wise guidance and unlimited inspiration will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon entitled "LOVE" will include the following passage from the Biblical account of the guidance the children of Israel received in their flight from Egypt: "And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night: He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people" (Exodus 13:21, 22). Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (454:18-21): "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action." The Golden Text is from 1 John (4:8): "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

Squirrel Cage . . .

A well-heeled man was passing a cut-rate clothing store when a long arm reached out from a doorway and pulled him in.

"I don't need any clothes," he protested. "I've got 10 suits at home."

"All the better," said the aggressive merchant "bring them in. I'll make you a partner."

The King of Beasts was feeling ornery one morning and went through the jungle taking it out on anyone who came by. Grabbing a tiger, he shook him up a bit, growling, "Who is King of the Jungle?"

"You are, on mighty one," answered the tiger.

Next the lion seized a monkey and knocked his head against the nearest tree with, "Who's King here?"

"You, Leo the Great," whined the monkey.

Striding further, the lion met an elephant. Blocking the big fellow's path the lion asked his usual question. Instead of bawling him, the elephant wound his trunk around the King of Beasts, whammed him against a huge rock and hurled him to the ground.

"Well," said the lion, "just because you don't know the answer, you don't don't have to get rough."

Sign in a restaurant: "The silverware is not medicine. Don't take it after meals."

A young man applied for a job as salesman in a clothing store. The store manager pointed out a suit of particularly hideous color and design.

"Sell that," he said, "and you've got a job."

The manager left the young man on his own for the rest of the afternoon. About five o'clock the salesman rushed up — his trousers torn, scratches on his hands and face, but with a big grin.

"Well," he cried triumphantly, "I sold the suit!"

"Congratulations," said the manager, "but I see you met with some sales resistance."

"Oh, no," said the youth. "The customer was easy. My trouble was with his seeing-eye dog!"

Crazy Business I I

Pretty soon Czechoslovakians, behind the Iron Curtain will be spreading Canadian Butter on their dark bread while Canadian consumers and taxpayers are spreading more margarine. Last week Ottawa confirmed a special sale of 300,000 pounds of butter out of government surplus stocks.

The Czechs will pay 37 cents a pound. This butter cost the Canadian government at least 60 cents. The Canadian taxpayer, on this deal alone, will lose $75,000. And butter is not the only product that the Canadian government is offering foreign buyers at special rates.

This is a crazy sort of business where domestic consumers as taxpayers foot the losses for bargains they are not permitted to buy. And there is no hope for any real improvement until governments get out of the farm marketing picture.

BOOMING ALBERTA

Geological statistics, population figures and splendid prophecies pour from the lips of the Alberta booster, writes Bruce Hutchison in The Financial Post, like oil from a high-pressure well — "Edmonton will double in size by 1970 and contain half a million people; it already buys more automobiles per capita than any North American city except Los Angeles; 60% of its people own their own homes; and in due time, as wisely arranged by the Almighty, this will be the industrial centre of the nation."

In 1954 the United Kingdom imported 360,800 tons of flour. Canada supplied nearly 90% of this amount.

Let's Get Down To Business . . .

Speculation as to how far Premier Manning is prepared to go in investigating the charges of the opposition, is one of the aftermaths of the election. It would be the sensible thing for both the government and the opposition sides to take the line the business of the public should be done first and all the regular routine matters cleared up before either does anything else.

It might be suggested to Premier Manning that the responsibility lies chiefly with him to see that business come first and close in-fighting afterward. If he prods the opposition too much he may find a first class row on his hands for it looks as if the opposition is spoiling for a fight.

The thrust and parry, challenge and denunciation skirmishes and reconnoitering of politics are all good fun and make interesting headlines, but right now what is needed is to get the business done.

The politicians can make rude noises at each other later after they have cleaned up matters such as marketing board legislation and amendments to the Legislative Assembly Act.

Everyone is to meet out there at ten o'clock on Sunday. The plans for the July 29th dance were completed. Mrs. Slear's orchestra will be playing. ... To print your own, that is. The Bank of England has made the counterfeiters' lot an even unhappier one by pressing a thin strip of aluminum foil into the paper used for making bank notes. Hence the do-it-yourself enthusiasts find it virtually impossible to duplicate.

It is nice to think that there will probably be a little bit of Canada wherever this new paper currency circulates. Great Britain imports 80% of her aluminum from Canada, and in turn represents one of the major markets for Canadian aluminum. ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. (ALCAN)

Sex Crimes . . .

The prevention of sex crimes in Canada has been tragically neglected June Callwood reports in the current issue of Maclean's magazine.

Endeavoring to determine how many criminal sexual psychopaths there the Criminal Code as expanded have been sentenced in Canada up to 1948, writer Callwood sent a telegram to each of the ten provincial attorneys-general.

"The replies," she reports, "reflect the indolence of the law. Saskatchewan refused to disclose any cases; British Columbia and Quebec claimed to have no statistics; Alberta, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and Newfoundland had sentenced none; Nova Scotia, one; Ontario, three."

The federal Commissioner of Penitentiaries, R. B. Olsson, listed the total number of criminal sexual psychopaths in Canadian prisons as nineteen. Miss Callwood adds. She explains that some of the disparity in the two sets of figures is due to those convictions obtained under the Criminal Code before it was expanded seven years ago. She adds: "Alberta, for instance, has two such convictions. The seven provinces that supplied figures to Maclean's had sentenced only four criminal sexual psychopaths in seven years."

The law added to the Criminal Code in 1948 provided for indeterminate sentences for criminal sexual psychopaths.

The Maclean's article points out that "although a law exists to lock away habitual sex criminals for life it is almost never invoked. Although prison sentences and whippings are proved to be no deterrent to sex crimes, they are still the only weapons in evidence. Nowhere in Canada is a thorough and systematic effort made, before he is discharged from custody, to determine that the sex criminal will not repeat his crime. He is returned to society older, not better."

While statistics seem to suggest that sex crimes are rare in Canada—in 1952 only 2.1 percent of all convictions for crimes were for sex offenses—the figures reflect only a fraction of the true picture, says Miss Callwood. "No one can guess how many Canadian parents whose children are molested refuse to notify the police in their anxiety to have their children forget the matter. . . . Another difficulty in assessing the problem of sex crimes by means of statistics is that many sex crimes are listed under other headings, such as arson, murder, assault or robbery."

Many criminals, convicted of non-sex offenses, the Maclean's article explains, are motivated almost entirely by sex abnormalities.

"Canadian courts convict about eight hundred sex offenders a year," says Miss Callwood. "Guesses at the probable population of sexual de-

CORN LEAF APHID: During the past few days we have had numerous reports from district farmers that some unusual insect was attacking the barley fields. I have checked several infested fields and am now able to report to you what this is. It is the corn leaf aphid and has been causing plenty of trouble in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. These aphids congregate on the leaves and stems of the barley plant and secrete a sticky substance which causes the leaves to roll up tight. Where the greatest damage may come is in the fact that the beet on the plant, which must open to let the head come through is tightly closed by the sticky secretion and cannot open. After the barley is headed there is little more cause for worry. Late seeded crops will suffer the most.

The aphids are a dark green, about 1/16th of an inch in length and are usually hidden within the sheath on grain plants. Control with chemical is costly, about $1.50 per acre for the material. A new insecticide, Malathion is being used at the minimum rate of 1 to 1 1/2 pints per acre in 10 gallons of water. However, since the outlook in Manitoba and Saskatchewan has completely depleted the supply for the time being there is none available at the moment. Aphids suck the juice from the plants and in turn secrete this sticky substance and deposit it on the leaves. Only direct contact with the spray will kill them and high pressures and larger gallonage of water per acre is required as compared to weed spraying.

THE OLD MASTER

Sir Winston Churchill has more to offer than blood, sweat and tears. He can speak eloquently not only as a man of war but as a man of peace. Here are some of his less familiar observations, all of them offering the reward of every Churchillian utterance: a ray of wit, a kernel of wisdom — or both.

Courtesy is rightly esteemed the first of human qualities . . . because it is the quality which guarantees all others.

I am always ready to learn, although I do not always like being taught.

I am surprised that in my later life I should have become so experienced in taking degrees when, as a schoolboy, I was so bad at passing examinations. In fact, one might almost say that no one ever passed so few examinations and received so many degrees.

A fanatic is one who can't change his mind and won't change the subject.

I always avoid prophesying beforehand, because it is much better policy to prophesy after the event has already taken place.

Science, which now offers us a golden age with one hand, offers at the same time with the other the doom of all we have built up inch by inch since the Stone Age and the dawn of any human annals. My faith is in the high progressive destiny of man. I do not believe we are to be flung back into abysmal darkness by those firestone discoveries which human genius has made. Let us make sure that they are servants, but not our master.

Grade Twelve
Students To Teach

Edmonton (CP)— Regulations approved by order in council will allow several of last year's student teachers who still require Grade 12 credits to teach next term, it was learned Tuesday.

Permission will be granted if the student teacher returns to the same school in which he taught last year, and is recommended by a superintendent.

For purposes of salary, they will be considered as first-year student teachers.

At present, 91 students are taking the first-term emergency teachers training course at the University of Alberta. Last year at this time, 121 students were enrolled and of that number 114 taught school, and 71 have returned to take a second term of training.

The six-week emergency teacher training was set up last year.

Average size of Alberta ranches are 2,000 acres owned by the individual rancher with 8,000 additional acres under lease from the provincial government.

Communists And Prosperity . . .

The main conclusion to be drawn from Justice Minister Garson's report on the declining vote and activities of the Labor Progressive Party in Canada is that Communists cannot stand prosperity.

Many of them apparently cease being Communists when they acquire a better stock of this world's goods.

In a riding which gave Tim Buck, perennial national secretary, 7,500 votes in 1945 and 6,500 as late as 1949, the Communist candidate couldn't get 1,000 votes in a recent by-election.

Stewart Smith, another of the half-down Reds in Canada, once time controller in the City of Toronto and for years assured of 40,000 votes when he ran for this post, could only get 1,500 votes last month in an Ontario provincial riding held for years by a Communist.

Joe Salberg, long a solid vote-getter was beaten in a four-way fight. Take it from there!

THE NERVE
OF SOME PEOPLE

A man walked into a jewelry store, looked around furtively, then stepped up to a display of silverware. Picking up a silver cup, he asked a clerk, "What are these for?"

"These happen to be prizes for a track meet, sir," the clerk replied. "For racing?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then," said the stranger, edging toward the door, "suppose you race me for this one?"

James was in debt and was told he had to raise $500 by Wednesday. All his efforts failed, and as a last resort he went to a wealthy friend, Harry. "Harry, I've never asked a favor before. Lend me $500. Today is Wednesday. I promise I'll pay you back on Saturday."

Harry agreed and everything was fine. But on Saturday, James didn't have the $500 to pay Harry back. So he went to his friend Leo, got the $500 until the following Wednesday, ran right over to Harry and paid him back. "See, Harry you do me a favor and right away I pay you back," said James proudly.

Came Wednesday though, and James didn't have the $500 to pay Leo. Back to Harry he went. "Harry, I proved my honesty and paid you back on time. Can you let me have $500 again until next Saturday?"

Harry did, and James gave it to Leo, and this went on and on for six months. Then one day, James chanced to bump into Harry and Leo together. In desperation he grabbed them and said, "Look Harry, every Saturday please give Leo $500, and Leo, every Wednesday you give Harry $500. But boys, do me a favor—please leave me out of it!"

Safety Sam Says...

NEVER ATTEMPT TO MAKE A RIGHT
HAND TURN FROM THE INSIDE LANE

One of the causes of damaged fenders and frayed tempers is the habit of too many motorists trying to make a right-hand turn from inside lanes and left-hand turns from the right-hand lane. As well as being discourteous and a traffic hazard this constitutes a traffic violation.

The proper procedure is to signal well in advance, then move into the lane on the side that you will be turning to and slow down on approaching the intersection. And, remember, where a pedestrian has stepped from the curb or is crossing a marked or unmarked crosswalk, the vehicle making the turn shall not proceed when the vehicle is travelling until the portion of the streets clear of pedestrian traffic.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Some of the lumber donated by friends has been secured for the new workshop that the Maintenance Superintendent, A. Eby, is planning. Mr. Taylor, Arthur Eby, and Sam Eby brought in a load on Saturday. Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lusk saying that they have secured positions in Bethel College, Mishawaka, Indiana. Mr. Lusk will also continue his music studies leading to his Bachelor of Music degree.

Little Keith Taylor sustained a bad foot injury last week when he ran into the lawn mower. He needed surgical attention and was detained in the hospital for a short while. He is getting along fine now.

Linda Hedgesgard also sustained foot injuries when she stepped on rusty nails recently. The wound had to be re-opened after a number of days and medical attention was necessary. She too, is recuperating at present.

Several of the faculty and staff attended the U.M.C. Sunday School picnic on St. George's Island last Wednesday.

Mrs. Eby was a guest of the Emerson Shantz family on Sunday. A re-union of the immediate Shantz family was held that day and about 21 persons were present. Pres. and Mrs. Taylor have been here Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Oke. Pres. and Mrs. Taylor have been given a gift of kitchen cupboard that fit over their kitchen sink. They look very nice in their fresh coat of paint and the Taylor's surely appreciate them.

Hunters Get New Look...

The hunters of Alberta will have a new look in 1955. Not only that, but this year's hunting regulations, released today by the Canadian Wildlife Service of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources show that there'll be lots for sportsmen in the oil province to be happy about this autumn. The open season on migratory game birds has been extended, and the bag and possession limits for ducks have been raised in this province.

The new look comes from the inauguration of a zoning system which divides Alberta into two hunting areas. The dividing line is the 56th parallel west from the Saskatchewan boundary to the 5th meridian, north on the 5th meridian to the 58th parallel, and west along the 58th parallel to British Columbia.

Open season in the northern zone is for ducks, geese, rails and coots. The season in the southern zone begins on September 1 and ends November 30. In the southern zone it's legal to shoot the same species from September 7 to December 10. Last year the season didn't open until September 14, and closed December 4. The season on Wilson's snipe in the northern zone opens September 1 and closes September 30, and in the southern zone this species is under hunting pressure from September 7 to October 8.

The daily bag limit for ducks has been increased to 10, with an increase in the possession limit to 40 birds of which not more than 20 may be species other than mallard. Other daily limits remain the same as last year — five geese, 10 rails and coots (in the aggregate), and eight Wilson's snipe.

Shooting methods and weapons similar to those in 1954, appear in the Migratory Bird Regulations, and on posters which will be available before the opening of the 1955 season.

Pie-On-Earth Sacred Policy?

"The Social Credit appeal is fundamentally geared to the dissatisfied. It is utopian and emotional," says Michael Burkay in his series on Social Credit in The Financial Post. "Social Credit promises pie-on-earth and an elevated conscience as well."
 "It blackguards it opponents, and claims to be 'something different' from the other parties. It likes to call itself a 'movement' rather than a party."

"It is closely interwoven with primitive religious concepts, which it repudiates when they become embarrassing."

"Its positive program is vague, changeable and fortuitous. Its original funny-money theories are rarely explained or discussed. But they are not repudiated either. "Where the public is in revolt against existing political or economic conditions, or both, Social Credit has a medicine which people will swallow. At least they have swallowed it twice — in Alberta and B.C. — where conditions were right."

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

The Olds fair will be held in Olds on August 12 and 13. It is an excellent place to see top quality livestock exhibits. Farmers could well take the time off to see these top animals. The breeders in selection of their animals for show illustrate the type of livestock in demand today.

At the fair the 4H Dairy club will show their calves, yearlings and two year old dairy animals. These members take care of these animals throughout the year and then groom and train them exhibiting them at the Olds Fair which is their achievement day. Many of the animals have been purchased by the members from outside points, others are born on the farm of the members parents and selected from their herds, in all cases they will be good quality individuals.

The two dairy clubs, Olds and Betchon, will compete individually and then for overall champion awards. Junior club success is due to the local support for the community also parent interest and leadership from their club leaders. Mr. Alex Craig is club leader of the Betchon club, while Mr. Chris Batters is leader of the Olds club. All interested people are invited to watch this show on August 11th, support these 4H club members and at the same time see illustrated the type of calves required for successful dairying. At the fair there will also be thematic displays by some of the clubs, these are well worth seeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Geiger visited last week with relatives and friends in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Janzen visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brower.

LESS NOISE MEANS
BETTER HEALTH !

Prohibition of unnecessary horn-blowing is not just a comfort or convenience. It reduces accidents and improves health.

The Ottawa Journal reports that in Turkey, England and other countries where the police enforce such a law, traffic conditions and driving manners have improved and accidents have been reduced.

The Montreal Star notes that when an anti-horn-blowing law went into effect in Paris, accidents to motorists dropped 32 per cent, to motorists 24 per cent, to bicyclists 13 per cent, to pedestrians 26 per cent. And the Montreal Star also points out that New York Studies show that racket from auto horns on city streets causes "a faster pulse rate, heightened blood pressure, irregularity in heart rhythm and an interference with the efficiency of the brain."
